

Review process

Each paper passes through review process prior to publishing. All submitted manuscripts deemed appropriate for consideration by the editors will be peer reviewed. Those not considered appropriate will be returned to the authors immediately. Revisions made according to the reviewers' remarks should be sent to the executive editor (kostelec@vuzv.cz). Accepted papers will be published in printed and in electronic version of the journal. Corresponding authors get proofs for correction and confirmation before publication.